New Education Grants Catalog From Capitol Publications' GrantSource Network!

You no longer have to muddle through the Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance or interpret the Federal Register when you want to find out if an idea you have could be funded. Now you can turn to the Education Grants Catalog 1991, the one-stop resource for all Education Department discretionary grant programs.

The Education Grants Catalog 1991 contains up-to-date information on all of ED's competitive grant programs including purpose, eligibility, deadline, funding information, related programs, examples of funded projects and contact information. A sample grant application is also included.

This easy-to-use reference is organized by subject based on Education Department offices, and each program is indexed under several headings. You'll submit your application with the confidence of knowing just what the Education Department is looking for.

Each copy of the Education Grants Catalog 1991 is $125.

The Education Evaluator's Workbook: How to Assess Education Programs -Volumes I, II, III, IV and V. These valuable reference works, available separately or as a set, will help you master specific areas of education program evaluation, from conducting a survey to weighing statistical significance ... from how to use pattern analysis to how to avoid common evaluation hazards, and much more. Whether you're a novice or an expert in evaluation, the series will improve your techniques and introduce you to ideas that work.

✓ Volume I. Contains the evaluation basics, including "How to Choose a Test," "Analyzing Data in the Field" and "Searching for Evaluation References." $39.95

✓ Volume II. The "How Tos" of data collection, surveys, statistics, costs and more, including "Choosing a Survey Design," "Using Pattern Analysis" and "Evaluating on a Shoestring." $37.95

✓ Volume III. Focusing on testing, Volume III includes such chapters as "Rating and Comparing Criterion-Referenced Tests," "Making Sense Out of Test Scores" and "Field Testing and Validating a Program or Product." Also touches on other subjects, such as teacher evaluation and questionnaires. $36.95

✓ Volume IV. In addition to "How to Use the Key Informant Survey Technique," this volume emphasizes data collection, analysis and statistics. $38.95

✓ Volume V. This volume features overall evaluation planning, assessing cost effectiveness and issues in evaluation. Chapters include "How to Plan an Evaluation You'll be Proud Of," "How to Analyze Program Costs" and "How to Determine if a Program Meets its Goals." $35.95

All five volumes: $150.00 (nearly a $40 savings)

Education Laws: A Compilation of Statutes in Effect Today. The updated full text of all federal laws governing education programs today. Includes the most recent reauthorizations of the Higher Education Act, the Education of the Handicapped Act and the Education Consolidation and Improvement Act, as well as the Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act and many more. $99.00

Effective Leadership: Research and Practice in School Administration. This handy, 60-page book of research results and advice from ongoing school programs is meant to be put to work. Digested and compiled from the pages of Education Monitor, its focus is on the issues that concern school administrators most: leadership, teacher development, hiring and appraisal, staff motivation and more. You'll get proven research results and tips from experts who will share what's working in their schools with you. $34.95
